Smith-McAlpine—

A beautiful home wedding, sweet and sacred in its every feature, was solemnized Monday at 12:30 at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. D. McAlpine, when their beautiful daughter, Miss Della McAlpine, was given in marriage to Mr. J. C. Smith. Rev. J. M. Bullock was the celebrant, and the ring service was used.

The home was beautifully adorned for the occasion, with a profusion of lovely blossoms, trailing vines and foliage plants.

In the parlor the bride and groom pronounced their marriage vows at an improvised altar built of palms and ferns and on either side shasta daisies filled white pedestal baskets, tied with maline. To complete the scene of loveliness, a canopy of ferns and daisies was formed which the young couple stood beneath.

Just before the ceremony Mr. Langston Spell sang "At Dawning," accompanied by Miss Ima Lee Peck, who immediately after the song sent forth the beautiful strains of Lohengrin's wedding march. Little Miss Morine Cox of Buffalo, the ring bearer, was first to enter, then came the two bridesmaids, Miss Ellen Sanders, attired in white organdy, and Miss Mammie Mitchell of Lampasas, gowned in pink taffeta, each carrying arm bouquets of shasta daisies and ferns tied with white maline. Following came the bride and groom. The bride wore a white cloth coat suit with hat and accessories to match. She carried an arm bouquet of bride's rose and fern.

During the ceremony and prayer the pianist played in soft undertone exquisite selections of appropriate music.

When the solemn marriage vows had been spoken, the newly wedded couple were given hearty and loving good wishes for a long and happy life together.

The wedding gifts were many and beautiful, and evidenced the loving good wishes of many friends of the young couple in this and other cities over the State.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith left immediately for a week's visit in Austin and are now at home to their friends at the home of Mrs. Samantha Dansby.

Complimentary Dance to Cadets—

No entertainment of the season has surpassed in beauty of appointment or charm of hospitality the brilliant dance given on Saturday evening by Mrs. G. S. Parker and daughter, Miss Dorcas Parker, who, in happy manner complimented nine of the A. & M. College students. The honorees were Messrs. Eye Runge of Galveston, Douglas Burns of Quero, Aldan Hawkins of Dallas, Gay Merriwether of Houston, Jennings Crocker of Dallas, Milton Berringer of Gonzales, Earl Graham of Bryan, Julian Foster of Fort Worth, Tom Cherry of Giddings.

Elaborate and beautiful decorative effects were achieved, making the charming home environment doubly attractive, and on this occasion the whole house and lawn was en fête, with myriads of flowers and lights, and as a courtesy to the honorees, the excellent taste of the hostesses led them to choose the college colors, red and white, for the color motif, which was developed in all the appointments of the elegant hospitality.

In the entrance hall amid an artistic environment, Mrs. G. S. Parker, Miss Parker, Misses Madeline Langdon of Dallas, Grace Norell Leavell of Houston, Ruby Lee Vance of Fort Worth and Margaret Crocker of Dallas, with the honorees, received the guests and gave cordial greetings.

In the music room and library adjoining, gorgeous gladiolus showed their beauty in every available space, filling the pedestal vases, baskets and slender receptacles. The dining room was richly beautiful in American Beauty roses and foliage plants, the former banking the mantel, buffet and cabinets, and held in a tall crystal basket on the table, which had a covering of lovely clumpy lace.

On the veranda, screened and charmingly furnished for the occasion, flowers in the prevailing hue filled wall pockets, rustic baskets and vases. Here Cabaniss Orchestra furnished inspiring music.

On the spacious lawn, ablaze with innumerable red and white electric bulbs, were palms, ferns and hanging baskets of flowers, and adding to the attractiveness, were balloons in the red and white shades which were strung over the lawn, the cool breeze causing them seemingly to keep time with the music.

The punch table, handsomely appointed in water lilies, was one of pictorial loveliness and was placed on the lawn beneath the spreading branches of a shade tree and a delicious iced beverage was dispensed all during the party hours.

An immense platform was built on the lawn and dancing was the delightful diversion of the evening, the dances being listed within lovely white booklets bearing the initial in gold of the hostesses, with the date of the hospitality. Red pencils and cords also carried out the color scheme.

Brick cream in red and white was served with angel cake and with the orchestra playing "The End of a Perfect Day" the two hundred guests dispersed at 12 o'clock.

Dinner to Attendants on Anniversary.
At the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Buchanan, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. McAdams entertained in pleasant manner on last Saturday evening with a dinner at the hour of 6, in compliment to their bridal attendants, the occasion being their first wedding anniversary.

The Shasta daisy was chosen as the decorative factor for the home, and the entire hospitality, featured the white and gold. China, showing the gold monogram, was used throughout the service of the six-course menu, and upon the lace covered table the central position was assigned a white Tiffany basket of the daisies and Plumbago fern. Place cards were in hand-painted design, and the six courses so beautifully served featured the yellow-white color motif.

Dinner over, the participants repaired to the lawn, where the remainder of the evening was spent. Those present were: Misses Clara Mawhinney, Willie McDougald, Sarah Allen, Corrie Suber; Messrs. Ike Ashburn, Cassidy, E. F. Bates, Edgar Buchanan.

Miss Haswell Entertains at Luncheon.

At the handsome home of Mr. and Mrs. Tyler Haswell Monday evening their charming daughter, Miss Ara Haswell, entertained with a luncheon honoring twelve visiting young ladies.

The entire home was radiant and beautiful in daisies, great baskets finding place on every side throughout the reception suite with supplementary effects given by foliage plants.

The serving table in the dining room bore a cluny cover over yellow satin, with a large white basket filled with the daisies occupying the central placing. An appetizing menu, comprising delicacies of all kinds, was served in buffet style, followed with cream and angel cake.

Events at this hospitable home are always perfect in detail and arrangement and this proved an agreeable echo of the past, and after a social hour spent on the porch, the guests went to the Elks Club rooms, where an informal dance was enjoyed.

Mesdames Peebles and Lewis Entertain—

Mesdames Peebles and Will Lewis afforded a most charming time of social visit to their neighbors on Friday afternoon at the home of the former, entertaining in compliment to their guest, Mrs. C. C. Schurber of Waco.

Crepe myrtle gave floral beauty to the pretty home, massed in baskets and bowls wherever space afforded, and contests of interesting kinds were engaged in. The game tables were placed in the sitting room and the ladies enjoyed the pleasure of forty-two through many progressions. An ice course with angel cake was served and the guests were most lavish in their compliments of the delightful time they enjoyed.

In Honor of Miss Garwood—

A delightful social hour of this week was on Sunday at 1 o'clock when Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McQueen entertained with a buffet luncheon in compliment to their guest, Miss Louise Garwood of Houston. The guest list numbered forty and included visiting young ladies and A. & M. College students.

The reception suite presented a most beautiful aspect to the assembled guests, with its artistic and effective arrangement of spring's choicest flowers. Zenias of a red hue were clustered in crystal receptacles in the sitting room and reception hall, while the golden hearted daisy was used in the dining room adornment. The lace spread table held a lovely Tiffany basket of the chosen flower in central placing, with salted nuts, sandwiches and other accessories to a salad course filling the platters and dishes and conforming to color requirements.

The hospitality was one of marked pleasure, the honor guest being a most attractive and charming young girl of rare sweetness and grace of manner, she having won many friends in Bryan on her first visit to the girlhood home of her mother, who was formerly Miss Hettie Page.

Elks Compliment Visitors—

The young men of the Elks Club delightfully entertained with a dance on Thursday evening, complimentary to the visitors.

The magnificent hall was made additionally beautiful by an artistic arrangement of daisies, placed throughout all the rooms.

An orchestra from Houston played splendid dance music for a program of sixteen dances, which were recorded in white booklets. The dance was purely informal and was much appreciated by the favored friends.

Notes and Personal—

Mrs. R. S. Webb, Jr., and daughter, Marie Elizabeth, left yesterday for a visit to Mrs. Webb's parents in Bloomington, Ill. She was accompanied by her sister, Miss Belle Ferguson, who has been spending the winter in Bryan as the guest of Mrs. Webb and her aunt, Mrs. R. M. Wilson.

Miss Annie Dearing and niece, Miss Frances Mike, are in Austin attending summer school at the University.

Mrs. Elizabeth Wilcox and Mrs. Law Henderson left today for a visit to St. Louis, Chicago and Milwaukee, and after an extended visit to an uncle in North Dakota, they will tour Canada and Yellowstone Park before returning home.

Sunday Twilight Tea—

Ideal in its beauty and charming simplicity, the twilight tea given Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Hanway in compliment to Miss Louise Garwood, brought together a number of the young people in a delightful informal way which added another enjoyable event to the commencement activities.

The smooth stretch of green lawn fitted up with lovely summer furnishings formed an attractive setting for the assembling of youth and beauty and dainty gowns of the feminine portion of the guests, adding soft touches of color against the green.

The tea table overspread with a rich lace luncheon cloth, was embellished with an attractive arrangement of red blossoms. Pressed chicken and delicacies of all kinds were served, followed by cream and cake.

In perfection of detail, nothing was left undone and the tea was one of the most beautiful affairs planned for this most charming young visitor.

Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Parker Entertain With Luncheon—

Of the many beautiful hospitalities of commencement week, none have been more perfect in artistic arrangement than the exquisitely detailed and beautifully environed out-door luncheon given Saturday afternoon at 6 o'clock by Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Parker, when they entertained a number of young lady visitors and their escorts.

This lovely home, half hidden by flowers and shrubbery and with its immense stretch of lawn, dotted with venerable oak trees, afforded a most effective setting for such a party.

The refreshment tables placed beneath the trees were exquisitely embellished in yellow and white, quantities of Shasta daisies and marigolds being the blossoms utilized in the appointments. White enameled baskets of artistic design and brass receptacles bound with yellow ribbon, held the chosen blossoms. An elaborate luncheon was served from four tables in buffet fashion, followed by brick cream in yellow and white with individual cake.

This elegant affair was one of unusual brilliancy, characterized as it was by the originality of plans and decorative detail.

A. & M. Final Ball—

The A. & M. College ball, around which centers annually much interest and enthusiasm, took place Tuesday evening at Bernard Shisa Hall. The event was by far the biggest affair of its kind ever given at this institution, having the largest crowd present of any previous ball, fully two hundred and fifty couples forming the grand march.

The brilliantly illuminated hall was simply yet prettily decorated for the occasion. Palms, ferns and flags being tastefully arranged. Thayers' Orchestra of Houston was stationed on a balm bedecked platform, and furnished the music for the evening.

The dance programs were of leather and those for the girls were card cases and for the men pocketbooks. This was a beautiful courtesy extended the seniors by the student body and the ball opened with a grand march led by Mr. N. M. Braumiller of Texarkana and Miss Irene Letcher of the same city, which was gracefully led, all the more so because of the difficulty of accomplishing a lead with so large a corps of dancers.

AMUSEMENTS.

The Dixie presents to its patrons tonight a strong three-act Vitaphone drama with Harry T. Morey and Ned Finley, in "The Strange Case"; Helen in one of her daring feats and a dandy comedy with George Ovey, making a good program that will please all who attend the playhouse tonight. The Queen feature for tonight is an unusually good one and has been highly recommended to the management by several reliable parties. Don't fail to see this feature tonight. Tomorrow brings the great Francis X. Bushman and beautiful Beverly Bayne in one of their best features, "A Million a Minute." Tomorrow afternoon only at the Dixie Earle Williams and Anita Stewart in "The Goddess," with a grand three-act Selig, "The Two Orphans," featuring beautiful Kathryn Williams. A complete change of bill at the Dixie tomorrow night, with a big special feature, "The Reward."

LECTURE AT TEMPLE FREDA.

On Sunday evening at 8 o'clock Prof. E. W. Kellogg of the A. & M. College will address the Culture Circle. This announcement will no doubt be welcome to the many who have been anxious to hear him. Everybody is cordially invited to attend.
